Product information

Nicola Marzovilla planted his family estate in the township of Impruneta near Florence with Sangiovese and patiently waited for the vines to mature. With the help of Fabio Coser of Ronco dei Tassi, he vinified the first crop in stainless steel and aged the wine in custom-made 20-hL Slavonian oak casks.

Producer information

With great enthusiasm the Marzovilla family has set to work on the verdant slopes of the Colli Fiorentini. The Massoferrato estate exists to produce the kind of high-quality, well-priced wine that calls to mind great food, good company and the warm embrace of the Tuscan sun. The vineyard is located in Impruneta, just south of Florence, on a perfectly pitched, south-facing slope. 2010 Rosso is the first to be made with a selection of the vineyard's best fruit.
