Product information

Monteforche is a small winery (six hectares) in the Colli Euganei managed by Alfonso Soranzo. He began to work in his family's vineyards in 2001, aided by his friend, agronomist Guido Busatto. All Monteforche whites are vinified and aged on their fine lees in cement vats. Alfonso uses only native yeasts and embraces a low-intervention philosophy.

Producer information

Not long ago Alfonso Soranzo set aside the horn he had trained to play since childhood to pick up a plow and get to work in the vineyards. He manages a small property with his father in the Colli Euganei, southwest of Padova, crafting unique wines of great character using sustainable principles in the vineyard and little intervention in the cellar. The Colli Euganei are steep hills of volcanic origin that enjoy great exposure to the sun and cooling Adriatic breezes.
