Product information

The Pinot Noir makes a brief stop in the press, in contact with the skins, in order to extract the color required. This is then followed by the fermentation process in stainless steel vats and, in the spring, the “en tirage” process, with the start of a slow second fermentation in bottles according to the traditional Franciacorta method. The bottles are stacked for at least 2 years. After the disgorgement stage, with the addition of an extremely dry liqueur de dosage, it undergoes another fining period in the wine cellar for several months. The total aging period is at least 36 months.

Producer information

Riccardo Ricci Curbastro carries on his family's tradition of making benchmark Franciacorta. Riccardo's style is drier than most because he believes that superior fruit is best expressed with little residual sugar. The farm has 25 hectares under vine near the village of Capriolo. Vineyards are managed using sustainable practices. All wines see some time in barrique during their first fermentation and spend up to 48 months on the lees during the second.
