Product information

Grapes are trained using the traditional pergola system on steep volcanic slopes outside the village of Lettere, south of Naples. Grapes are vinified separately to make the base wine, blended and finished using the charmat method. The wine is off-dry, the preferred style for generations in Neapolitan homes and restaurants. Ideal with pizza Napoletana.

Producer information

Where the rugged hills of the Penisola Sorrentina tumble into the mainland sits the hilltop town of Lettere. It is here, overlooking Pompei on terraces as high as 1500ft asl, that Paolo Palumbo finds the Piediroso, Aglianico and other local varieties he needs to make one of Campania's most emblematic wines. He has long-standing contracts with village growers, some cultivating as little as ¼ acre. This is truly a wine of place. Lettere is off-dry and earthy with exuberant effervescence. Perfect with pizza.
