Product information

Costieres de Nimes is the southernmost appellation of the Rhone Valley. It features the same varieties found in the Cotes du Rhone appellations across the river to the east. White wine from this zone is rare in the USA as there is very little made. Chateau Laval blends four varieties with Roussanne being most prominent at 40%. Grapes are harvested and vinified separately in temperature-controlled stainless steel. The wine rests in tank for several months before bottling and release.

Producer information

Chateau Laval is located between the cities of Aries and Nimes in the southernmost reaches of the Cotes du Rhone. The estate was founded in 1947 by Paul Alcaay and is operated today by Paul's daughter Martine and her husband Jean-Jacques Chemorin. There are 48 hectares under vine with most of the red grapes split evenly between Grenache and Syrah.
